J.A. King Surface Plate Calibration Services

You take care of your surface plate. You treat it like the expensive, precision measurement platform that it is. You keep it clean, you don't let anyone eat lunch on it or sit on it. It's not used for storage of stray equipment.

So why, then should you calibrate your surface plate? Take a look at our article about surface plate calibration and learn more about surface plate calibration by talking with your local J.A. King technical expert!

GageSuite Tips an Tricks: 2D Barcodes

Did you know that for nearly all parameters our calibration stickers now feature a 2D barcode? You can scan this barcode with your cell phone, tablet, or any device with a 2D scanner to easily pull up the equipment's most recent certificate of calibration. If you don't already have a GageSuite login, click below to learn more and sign up today.
